SHOPLIFTERS SAVED FROM THE LAW BY MERCHANTS

Aged Woman and Two Companions Receive Consideration Because of Prominence of Families.

Detained at police headquarters today were three women, members of a well known county family. They were taken into custody as alleged shoplifters. They were not placed formally under arrest, and merchants who are alleged to have suffered at their hands told Chief McMillin that they were not disposed to lodge complaints because of consideration for their families.

The women live in Atrisco. One of them is the grandmotherly age. One of her companions is middle-aged and the other is barely out of her teens.

The three entered Collier, Collier & Co.'s store this morning and purchased a piece of muslin. Before they left the counter several articles were missed. Suspicion instantly was directed against the trio and when they left the store Mr. Collier shadowed them. He followed them to the Strong book store, where he detected one of them stealing a tablet. He notified the police and Officer Main, dispatched by Chief McMillin, took the three women to headquarters.

There a search by a woman called in by the chief disclosed a dress and a hat which proved to be the property of Weiler & Benjamin. Nothing belonging to Kinder, Collier & Co. was found. Not even the piece of muslin bought at the store. They said they gave the muslin to a friend and didn't know where it was.

It was said at headquarters this

Genuine Gas House Coke contains more heat than any other fuel.

When you purchase a ton of fuel to heat your home you are paying so much for two thousand pounds of heat containing material and coke contains more heat for equal weight than any other fuel.

This is readily understood by large manufacturing enterprises that use it to smelt copper and iron ores. Both of the foundries in Albuquerque use it to melt iron.

Use it in your home this winter and enjoy the comforting warmth afforded by its use.

In order to eliminate rush orders later in the season the following prices good for the rest of September only:

IMPORTANT RAISES BY STATE BOARD OF EQUALIZATION

Chiefly Affect Coal Lands in Colfax and McKinley
County, Agricultural Land and Grazing Land.

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 24.—The state board of equalization, which closed its session here yesterday, made blanket raises on coal lands in Colfax county and McKinley county of from $90 to $110 per acre, and on certain classes of coal land in Colfax county alone of from $55.50 to $45 per acre.

Agricultural lands were raised 20 per cent in Bernalillo and six other counties, 30 per cent in San Miguel county, and 19 per cent in six other counties. Grazing lands were raised 40 per cent in three counties, and 19 per cent in other counties where the assessment had been on a valuation of less than $2 per acre.

The assessment of the Albuquerque Traction company was reduced from $12,900 to $8,000 on real estate and placed at $10,000 a mile on its car line and equipment, with a total of 6.2 miles. The valuation of the Colorado Telephone company was assessed at $1,039,945, of which $117,000 is in Bernalillo county. The assessment of the Santa Fe railroad in Dona Ana county was increased from $1,042,000 to $1,800,000. The assessment of the New Mexico Central railroad was fixed on a basis of $342,500 in Santa Fe county and $467,000 in Torrance county.

Assessments were raised on horses and mules in eastern New Mexico. County commissioners were asked for failure to properly assess property which had become taxable under the six-year exemption law and all county governments were warned to exercise economy because the financial depression of 1914 might continue into 1915. Special attention of assessors was called to failure this year to assess the output of New Mexico mines.

BUSINESS MEETING WILL OPEN WORK OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB

Instead of the usual reception in honor of new members the Albuquerque Woman's club will devote its first meeting of the fall tomorrow afternoon to a strictly business session. It has been customary in years past to hold a reception for new members at the opening event of the club's work.

General plans for the work of the coming year will be the chief business of the session, which will convene in the club building on West Gold avenue at the usual hour.

WOULD GO INTO THE WORLD

Leader Believes Women Should Cease to Be "Household Drudges" and Give Her Reasons.

Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, speaking in New York to an audience composed chiefly of women, compared the lives of some American mothers to the harem lives of the East.

"Women," Mrs. Gilman declared, "should go into the world and do lucrative and interesting work instead of being household drudges."

"One reason for this is that the middle-aged woman, like the middle-aged man, when occupied in business or intellectual work, has little time to brood over departing youth."

"You know we women become very sour as we grow old. But, when we all work, perhaps the ungallant comparison that a cynical bachelor once made to me will lose some of its truthfulness. Here is the comparison:

"Ladies, in their childhood, resemble water. As girls of twelve to fifteen, they're like lemonade; as young persons from eighteen to twenty-five, champagne; as women of twenty-five to forty, liqueur. A woman from forty to fifty years of age is equal to home-made port wine. After fifty, most ladies turn to vinegar."

Accounting for Courage.

"I think," she said, hesitatingly and with downcast eyes, "that you'd better speak to papa."

"Of course!" he replied promptly. "That's easy. The only thing that troubled me was the interview with you."

"You're not afraid of papa?" she said, inquiringly, opening her eyes in astonishment.

"Afraid!" he exclaimed. "Why should I be?"

"Really, I don't know," she answered, "but it's usual, you know."

"Oh, I suppose so," he answered in the off-hand way of the man of the world. "With inexperienced men there would be nothing surprising in it, but I have taken the precaution to lend him money, which is still unpaid."

Then it was that the beautiful girl realized that she had caught a genuine financier for a husband.—Stray Stories.

King of French Thieves.

Franchomme, who bears the title in Paris of "King of Thieves," has been condemned to three years in prison. He is the hero of 70 thefts, his prey for the most part having been Parisian jewelers. M. Franchomme has been employing his spare time while in prison writing his "memoirs," in which he boasts of his marvelous dexterity. Le Cri de Paris quotes a passage from these memoirs, which are soon to be published: "My thefts, my swindles, will figure into the thousands. Paris is truly the city par excellence to produce a man so resourceful in his adventures, having at hand an inexhaustible spring of stratagems. I have employed in this city a supernatural intelligence and no end of novel inventions to obtain money. I have turned the same tricks in Paris and London and Brussels, but in Paris I did more of them, until at last the Parisians could no more allow themselves to be taken in."

The Koran.

In a recent number of the London Everyman is a review of the Koran and its author Mohammed. It is a one man's book, and that man not an imaginative one, but essentially a man of action and lacking in invention. The Koran is a jumbled mass of precepts, doctrines, threats, injunctions, divine commands, narrative, lyric and epic poetry. Its heaven and hell are too material for modern thought. "Obviously," says Everyman, "the Koran is meant not to be read with the eye, but to be recited, when the repetitions are not nearly so pronounced. It reflects a social order, a system of ideas as remote from Rome and more especially from Greece, as our own are from the North American Indian. But neither time nor evolution can utterly quench the flame of Mohammed's personality, which carried his followers to reckless excesses, to the sovereignty of empire which created an art peculiar to Islam, and founded age-long traditions."

London.—In the county of Nordland, Norway, on the rocky and precipitous line at about 68 degrees north latitude, the jagged and fantastic peak of the Digermulkollen mountain rears its head some 1,100 feet above the ocean. Its summit, marked by this pile of stones, is reached by a winding, but fairly easily traversed pathway. The

FINDS KIN, AFTER 20 YEARS

Brothers Meet at Door of Prison After Having Been Separated for a Score of Years.

Towanda, Pa.—"George, I will stand by you through thick and thin and when our prison days are ended come home to me and I will welcome you with all my heart."

Thus spoke Eugene Bowers, thirty-two years old, as he tearfully bade his brother George good-bye at the Towanda jail. Eugene had found and claimed his brother George after a separation of 20 years. George faces at least fifteen years in the Eastern penitentiary for assault and robbery.

Through newspaper clippings, Eugene established the identity of the prisoner as his brother.

When Eugene and George met they embraced and sobbed like children. Then Eugene unfolded a story which brought tears to the eyes of those who heard it. His mother, he said, eloped in 1853, taking George, then a child of three years, with her. Since that time they have been lost to the deserted husband and all blood relatives.

George grew to manhood, fell into evil ways and his downfall ended in the assault which will send him to prison for many years. The father, two brothers and a sister who were forsaken by the wife and mother, live in Corning, N. Y. They supposed the woman and child she had taken with her were dead.

TWO BEARS FIGHT TO DEATH

Huge Grizzly and a Black Member of Bruin Family Battle to Finish in Denver Park.

Denver.—A huge male "grizzly" and a black bear cub fought a finish fight at City Park zoo. The black bear, one of a den of five, is dead. Curiosity and the stimulus of a crisp spring morning are responsible.

The bear went in quest of adventure. He snuffed the air, shook himself and placed a paw upon the first crosspiece of the iron grating which separated his pen from the one adjoining, in which the grizzly, the largest in the zoo, was confined.

The visiting Bruin looked ineffectively toward the top and then commenced to mount, stopping at every round to regard inquiringly the four black bears which he had left below. From the other side of the grating the grizzly regarded the approach with disapproval.

The bear reached the top and paused to take account of his exploit with conscious satisfaction. Then he lost his balance and a moment later fell to the cement floor of the grizzly's preserve.

When the keepers arrived later the black bear was dead.

Children Carry Mother's Ashes. New York.—Jessie and Lillian Glen, day, aged three and six, respectively, sailed aboard the Celtic on the last of a 6,000-mile journey with their mother's ashes. Mrs. Glen, who died in Oakland, Cal., wanted to be buried in Scotland. Her husband had the body cremated, placed in an urn and started the children on their journey.

BRAZILIAN KICK MAY RESULT IN EXCHANGE OF CORRESPONDENCE

Washington, Sept. 24.—Refusal of the Brazilian government to grant clearance to the steamship Robert Dollar, which sought to raise the American flag before leaving Rio Janeiro may result in diplomatic correspondence.

Solicitor Johnson of the state department said today the incident was not closed when the steamer left port under the British flag but he did not say what course this government might pursue.

Clearance was refused on the ground that recognition of the change of registry might infringe on Brazilian neutrality.

SANTA FE OFFICER RESCUES SHAKY HONEYMOON

O'Leary Recovers Wedding Tour Funds Which Joyous Bridegroom Leaves Behind in Taxicab.

Money which a joyous bridegroom left behind when he started from here on his honeymoon several days ago has been restored to him by the Santa Fe railroad police department.

The bridegroom came to the station in a taxi the other day with his bride and they boarded No. 2 to start on their wedding tour. Next morning Station Master Ed Sinclair got an agitated telegram from the bridegroom asking him to look for $189 which the newlywed missed. Sinclair had another job on tap and he turned the case over to Tim O'Leary, head of the Santa Fe police force. O'Leary hunted up the taxi in which the newlyweds came to the station and under the seat he found the $189 and a gun.

The money and the gun were sent to Las Vegas, where the bride and groom left the train when they discovered the loss. That night the bridegroom reappeared in town on train No. 1, looking for his money. He went back to Las Vegas hotfoot on No. 2.

Another telegram from Las Vegas informed the Santa Fe officials here that he couldn't find his money, but eventually he did. His gratitude found expression in a crisp ten-dollar note from the roll.

Since then the Santa Fe police have heard nothing from him and they suppose the interrupted honeymoon has been resumed.

The Markets

Chicago Grain.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Although wheat advanced today on account of higher prices at Liverpool, the gains soon disappeared. The opening, which was 1-4 to 1-2 up, was followed by a decline to last night's level.

The close was weak, 1 1/2 cts. net lower.

Corn lacked support. After opening 1-8 cts. off to a like advance, the market underwent a moderate setback all around.

The close was heavy, 5/8 cts. under last night.

Export brokers were busy in the oats crowd, but the market was governed chiefly by the course of wheat. Early advances gave way to a decline. Trade in provisions was confined chiefly to lard, for which there was quite an active inquiry. Lower prices for hogs were ignored.
